Cambridge Preterm Latin language pack

This language pack has been designed to help you get (and maintain) a good grasp of Latin before coming to Cambridge. It is based on the vocabulary and grammar the OCR AS/A Level syllabus. Please read this letter carefully.

You will be assessed on your comprehension of this material when you arrive at Cambridge. You will be expected to:

- identify any Latin word from the AS/A Level vocabulary list included here
- write down from memory any word-table (or paradigm) also included here (you will be given a starter form)
- write down from memory the principal parts of the verbs in the list included here (you will be given a starter form)
- translate into English some sentences exhibiting this vocabulary and grammar (you will find a checklist of grammatical topics in this pack)

This assessment is not designed to intimidate and does not count toward any final grade: it is merely meant to give you something concrete to work on between now and then, and to assist your Director of Studies and us in ensuring that we have got the right people in the right groups from the start.

You may have a qualification different from the OCR exam syllabus, but no matter: in order to prepare for this assessment, all the material to be tested is presented here in this packet.

As far as supplementing your studies and preparing yourself for term you will find the following resources helpful.

We strongly recommend that you purchase a proper reference grammar. Kennedy's Revised Latin Primer (edited and revised by James Mountford) remains an excellent and inexpensive tool. B. L. Gildersleeve and G. Lodge's Latin Grammar is more extensive, and C. E. Bennett's New Latin Grammar is good (available free for Amazon Kindles), as is Allen and Greenough's New Latin Grammar. (The latter two can both be downloaded for free from textkit.com and archive.org.) For those of you wanting advanced syntactical information, we recommend E. C. Woodcock's New Latin Syntax. You will find a variety of supplementary online materials at charlieslanguagepage.com

There are other, perhaps more user-friendly, school grammars out there (such as Morwood's Oxford Grammar) that you may already own but bear in mind that they are not proper reference grammars and simply do not have enough information to help you understand Latin at the level required by your set texts in the Cambridge course.

In order to deal more ably with the grammatical concepts you will meet in your work you may find these volumes helpful:

• A Student's Introduction to English Grammar, by Rodney Huddleston (ISBN 0-521-612888)
• English Grammar for Students of Latin, by Norma Goldman (ISBN 0-93-403434-6)

As far as dictionaries go, we strongly recommend C. T. Lewis' Elementary Latin Dictionary (Oxford University Press, ISBN 0199102058), though Penguin, Collins and Cassells produce good ones as well. Lewis and Short's old and very large Latin Dictionary remains a valuable resource; the research standard today is the huge Oxford Latin Dictionary. 'Lewis & Short' can be downloaded for free via a PC and Mac application called 'Diogenes' that's online (just search for it) and even loaded into an iPhone or iPad via an app called 'SPQR' (by Paul Hudson) from the Apple App Store, where you may find other good apps as well. Android users will find SPQR in the Google Play store, and both versions of Lewis are searchable on Perseus.

You will find in this pack:

- a checklist of grammatical topics
- a vocabulary list
- paradigms, etc.
- a list of verb principal parts

We have created online activities for vocabulary revision at:

- www.charlieslanguagepage.com/CWslanguagepage/OCRmaterials.htm

Good luck with your studies and see you soon!

checklist of grammar topics for Latin students

On arriving at Cambridge you will be assessed on the following topics. The assessment will fall into four parts (in each part you will be given some choice):

Section A: Vocabulary: you will be expected to know the vocbulary of the AS Level list (supplied here)
Section B: Accidence: you will be expected to write down from memory any word-table (or paradigm) of any word supplied in the pack (you will not be tested on archaic forms)
Section C: Principal Parts: you will be expected write down from memory the principal parts of the verbs in the list included in this pack
Section D: Syntax: you will be expected to translate from Latin into English a few sentences that exhibit the points of syntax as specified below

The assessment will take form as an hour-long online test. Many elements of the test will be generated randomly by computer, so each test will be unique. Some elements will be very simple and some will be more challenging. The test will be marked out of 100 points and only you and your Director of Studies will be given the results. The test is merely designed as a diagnostic tool and will not count towards any final mark or grade at all.

adjectives and nouns, etc.
• understanding of gender, case, and number in nouns and adjectives
• noun and adjective declension of all five patterns of the words that appear in the AS vocabulary list
• form and use of demonstratives
• form and use of personal, reflexive, and relative pronouns
• form and use of comparatives, including irregulars
• form and use of gerunds and gerundives

verbs
• understanding of the formation and function of person, number, tense, voice and mood in verbs
• understanding of verbal 'aspect'
• conjugation of regular verbs in all tenses, voices and moods, including participles and infinitives (supplied in pack)
• conjugation of the main irregular verbs in in all tenses, voices and moods, including participles and infinitives (supplied in pack)

syntax
• understanding of case usage and prepositions (documents supplied in pack)
• constructions with comparative expressions
• form and use of participles, including participles used adverbially (= circumstantially or predicatively)
• understanding of verbs that take infinitives , e.g. uolo
• understanding of independent mood usage, such as potential, deliberative and contrafactual subjunctives
• understanding of the sequence of tenses
• understanding of indirect speech, command and question structures
• a general understanding of the variety of subordinate clauses in Latin (documents supplied in pack)

N.B. The tables and documents are meant to be fairly comprehensive and of use for future reference (e.g. when reading poetic and archaic texts). Sometimes long marks (macra ¯) and short marks (breuia ˘) have been printed over vowels as an aid in distinguishing certain elements; in some paradigms such marks are given in the leading word only. Note too that U is employed for V throughout: this is standard scholarly Latin practice today and will be found in the University exams.

Latin adverbs (Kennedy §§85a–87 & 162–170; Gildersleeve and Lodge §§91–93)

1. Many adverbs are formed from 2nd declension (sometimes 3rd) forms, adding ablatival -ē[d] or -ō[d] to the stem of the word, e.g.:

| | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| aegrē | citrō | fortĕ | pulchrē | subitō |
| aequē | dignē | hūmānē | quō | tūtō |
| amīcē | eō | lentē | rārē | ualdē |
| bĕnĕ | extemplō | mălĕ | rārō | uērē |
| certē | falsō | miserē | rectē | uērō |
| certō | ferē | mŏdŏ | rĕpentē | ultrō |
| cĭtŏ | fermē | oppidō | sānē | uulgō |

2. -iter, -ter, and -er appear in 3rd declension (sometimes 2nd) forms, e.g.:

| | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| aliter | celeriter | ferōciter | largiter | sapienter |
| audacter | constanter | fortiter | molliter | similiter |
| breuiter | fallāciter | hūmāniter | prūdenter | uehementer |

3. Some adverbs are the accusative singular neuter of the adjective (this is regular for comparative adverbs, e.g. melius), e.g.:

| | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| aliquantum | facile | nimium | plērumque | prīmum |
| cēterum | impūne | parum | postrēmum | quantum |
| dulce | multum | paulum | potissimum | trīste |

4. Some originate in feminine forms, e.g.:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| aliās | cōram | palam | rectā |
| aliquam | dextrā | perperam | sinistrā |
| bifāriam | hāc | quā | tam |
| clam | iam | quam | ūnā |

5. -tim, originally an accusative form, becomes an adverbial suffix, e.g:

| | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| aceruātim | cursim | interim | praesertim | statim |
| articulātim | fūrtim | membrātim | prīuātim | strictim |
| caesim | generātim | minūtātim | raptim | summātim |
| cateruātim | gradātim | partim | saltim usu. saltem | tribūtim |
| centuriātim | gregātim | passim | sēnsim | uicissim |

6. -tus is originally ablatival, then becomes a suffix, e.g.:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| antīquĭtus | fundĭtus (< fundus farm, land) | pĕnĭtus |
| dīuīnĭtus | intus | rādīcĭtus |

7. -uorsum adverbs show an originally accusative uersum (< uerto) attached as a suffix, e.g:

|---|---|
| aduorsum > aduersum (also aduersus) | prōuorsum > prorsum (also prorsus) |
| aliōuorsum > aliorsum (also aliorsus) | retrōuorsum > retrō(r)sum (also retrō(r)sus) |
| dēuorsum > dĕorsum (also dĕorsus) | reuersum > rūrsum (also rūrsus) |
| quōuorsum > quorsum (also quorsus) | subuersum > sūrsum (also sūrsus) |

8. tenus is an old accusative noun ("a stretching") that becomes a suffix (and a preposition), e.g.:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| aliquātenus | eātenus | hāctenus | quātenus |

9. A range of other suffixes and adverbial formations can be found, e.g. i-bi, in-de, quan-dō, dū-dum, com-minus, nū-per (< nouom-per cf. sem-per).

10. Comparatives are formed by the neuter accusative of the adjective, superlatives normally in -issimē. Some important forms:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| bĕnĕ | melius | optĭmē (archaic optŭmē) |
| diū | diūtius | diūtissimē |
| intus | interius | intimē |
| magnopere | magis | maximē (maxume) |
| mălĕ | pēius | pessimē (pessume) |

case usage in Ancient Greek and Latin: some major categories

For the fullest accounts in English see Smyth and Woodcock (fuller than the just adequate Goodwin and Kennedy), if you have even a little German see Schwyzer vol. 2 for Ancient Greek and Leumann-Hofmann-Szantyr for Latin. This list is not meant to cover specific words that govern particular cases e.g. plenus with the genitive or ablative or καταγιγνώσκω with acc. rei ('accusative of the matter') and gen. pers. ('genitive of the person').

accusative can be said to fall into four major uses:

1. direct object (and also as subject of noun clauses, e.g. in Indirect Speech)
2. marking motion or extent (of time or place): Romam, quattor dies
3. cognate accusative: vitam vivo, δίκας δικάζομαι (a.k.a. figura etymologica)
4. adverbial accusative (≈ accusative of respect): quid, τι: 'somewhat', 'in respect of something'; quid?, τί: 'why?'

genitive (= Eng. 'of')

N.B. Schwyzer's Gk categories: 1. ABLATIVE 2. PARTITIVE 3. OF BELONGING ('Pertinentiv') 4. SYNCRETISTIC

1. 'adnominals' are any genitives that 'qualify' or depend on nouns: fratris mors = mors fraterna
2. 'adverbials' are e.g. genitive of the charge, memory (and forgetting), source of emotion
3. possessive: τὸ βίβλιον αὐτοῦ; N.B. hominis errare est, ἀνδρὸς ἀγαθοῦ περὶ τῶν μεγίστων συμβουλεύειν
4. subjective: amor Dei (= amat Deus)
5. objective: amor Dei (= amamus Deum)
6. partitive: tantum pecuniae, εἰς τοσοῦτον ὕβρεως
7. of definition ('appositional'): Τροίης ἱερὸν πτολίεθρον, virtus iustitiae (Eng. 'the city of London' but Lat. urbs Roma)
8. of description: homo eius modi
9. of price and value: magni facio, (περί) πολλοῦ ἂν τοῦτο ποιησαίμην
10. 'time within which': anni, ἐνιαυτοῦ or ἔτους
11. 'of the sphere' or 'respect': ὦ δυστάλαινα τῆς ἐμῆς αὐθαδίας Eur. Med. 1028 (does this cover 'verbs of forgetting', etc.?)
12. Gk only: of separation (Lat. abl.) (normally with prepositions or prepositional prefixes)
13. Gk only: of comparison (Lat. abl.)

dative (= Eng. 'to' and 'for')

N.B. Schwyzer's Gk categories: 1. 'TRUE' DATIVE 2. LOCATIVE 3. INSTRUMENTAL 4. SYNCRETISTIC

1. of the indirect object: librum mihi da
2. of reference or advantage (or disadvantage): me tibi exorno
3. of agent*: mihi faciendum est* (only with gerundives) or πεποίηταί μοι (Gk perfects only)
4. ethic: quid mihi Celsus agit? 'Tell me, what is Celsus up to?' (cf. Gk τοι 'I tell you'—freq. in Homer and Plato)
5. of possession*: est mihi liber*: we normally find esse or εἶναι here (or implied), but not always
6. predicative or purpose + reference: LARGELY SPECIAL TO LATIN: saluti urbi fuit, praesidio mihi es
7. Gk only: of instrument (Lat. abl.)
8. Gk only: of degree of difference: πολλῷ μείζων (Lat. abl.)
9. Gk only: of time and place (Lat. abl.)
10. Gk only: comitative: χρόνῳ 'with time' (Lat. abl.) (n.b. special idiom w/ dat. αὐτός)
11. Gk only: of manner: σπουδῇ, σιγῇ (Lat. abl.)
12. Gk only: of cause: νόσῳ ἀποθανεῖν (Lat. abl.)
13. Gk only: of specification (or respect) (Lat. abl.)

ablative (= Eng. 'from', 'with', 'by', 'in')

N.B. L-H-S's Lat. categories: 1. 'TRUE' ABLATIVE 2. INSTRUMENT 3. LOCATIVE

1. of separation or 'true' ablative (Gk gen.): libera me metu
2. of agent: with ab in Latin (= ὑπό in Greek)
3. of material (with ex or de in Classical Latin)
4. of comparison: be sure NOT to use quam or ἤ as well! (Gk gen.)
5. of cause: morbo perire (Gk dat. and gen.)
6. of association (or 'comitative'): normally with cum: this is the origin of abl. abs. (Gk dat. and gen.), a.k.a. 'attendant circumstance'
7. of instrument: distinguish carefully from agent (Gk dat.)
8. of description: vir magna sapientia (compare the genitive of description)
9. of specification (or respect): mirabile dictu, umero saucius
10. of degree of difference: multo maior (Gk dat.)
11. of manner: magno (cum) studio (Gk dat.)
12. of place or time: die tertio (Gk dat.)

conspectus of Ancient Greek and Latin subordinate clauses

Subordinate or dependent clauses are traditionally (Smyth §2189 and Kennedy §410) classified in three ways:

1. substantival clauses behave like nouns

2. adverbial clauses disclose information that is adverbial (i.e. predicate) to the action at hand

3. adjectival clauses disclose information that is adjectival (i.e. attributive) to the agent or item at hand

This classification is based on an analogy: clauses are being compared to words*. Subordinate clauses are taken to* modify the main clause like nouns, adverbs, and adjectives:

1a. Jim annoys me.
1b. The fact that Jim does that annoys me.
1c. I can't stand Jim.
1d. I can't stand the fact that Jim does that.

2a. Jim ran quickly.
2b. Jim ran when he realized he was late.
2c. Jim ran because he realized he was late.
2d. Jim ran although he didn't need to.

3a. I've made an unforgivable mistake.
3b. I've made a mistake which is unforgivable.

In each of these examples, a clause underlined in a (b), (c) or (d) sentence plays the same role as the word underlined in the (a) sentence. Each kind of clause has further subclasses:

1. substantival clauses
    a. relative clauses (best treated as adjectival—see below)
    b. indirect speech
    c. indirect question
    d. indirect command

2. adverbial clauses
    a. purpose (a.k.a. "final") clauses
    b. object clauses (really belong under substantives but resemble purpose clauses very closely)
        —with verbs of effort
        —with verbs of fear
    c. causal clauses
    d. result (a.k.a. "consecutive") clauses
    e. proviso clauses
    f. conditional clauses
    g. concessive clauses
    h. temporal clauses
    i. comparison

3. adjectival clauses: relative clauses
        a. definite
        b. indefinite
        [c. "conditional" relative clauses in Gk]

a survey of Latin conjunctions (Kennedy §§176–179)

1. COORDINATING (some are conjunctive particles or adverbs)

a. connective:

| | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| acatqueet-que | and | etiamĭtemquŏquĕ | also | nĕcnequenēue(also neu) | nor |
| et...et-que...-que-que...et | both...and | | | nec...necneque...nequenēue...nēue(also neu) | neither...nor |

b. separative:

| | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| autuel-ue | or, either | sīueseu | whether, or | sīue...sīueseu...seu | whether...or |

c. adversative:

|---|---|
| at (archaic ast)attamenautem (postpositive)cēterumseduērumuērumtamenuērō | but, etc. |

d. causal:

|---|---|
| enim (usu. postpositive)enimuērō (prepositive)etenimnam (prepositive in prose)namque | for, etc. |

e. conclusive:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| ergōitaqueigitur | therefore | quārēquamobremquāpropterquōcircā | for which (or this) reason |

2. SUBORDINATING

a. consecutive or resultative (freq. with sīc, ita, tam, adeō, tālis and tantus, etc. leading):

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| ut | so that | ut nōn | so that not |
| | | quīn | that not (also used with negated expressions of prevention) |

b. final or purposive:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| quō | whereby, in order that | nē | lest, so that not |
| ut | in order that | nēue or neu | and lest, and that not |
| | | quōminus | "by which the less" (also with positive expressions of prevention) |

c. causal:

|---|
| cŭm + subj.quandōquĭdem + ind.quĭă + ind. for facts, subj. for assumptionsquippe + ind. and subj. , freq. with quiquod usu. + subj. for alleged causequŏnĭam + ind. and subj. , for groundssīquidem + ind. (also "if indeed") |
| because, since, insofar as etc. |

d. temporal:

| | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| cum + ind. or subj.quandōquotiēnssĭmŭl acŭbīut | when, what time, etc. | antequamprĭusquam | before | dōnecdumquŏadquātenus | usu. while + indic., until + subj. |
| | | postquam | after | | | these are frequently in tmesis, i.e.: prius...quam; post...quam

e. conditional:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| sī + ind. or subj. | if | nĭsĭ (nī) | unless |
| sīue (seu) | whether | sī nōn | if not |
| sīn | but if | (dum)mŏdŏ | provided that | | | | (tantum)mŏdŏ | only, just |

f. concessive:

|---|---|
| cum + subj.etsīetiamsīquamquamquamuīsutut (archaic) | although, however, etc.(usu. + ind. with facts,+ subj. with hypotheses) |

g. comparative:

|---|---|
| ceuquam, quăsĭquemadmodum, quōmŏdŏsīcŭt, sīcŭtītamquamuĕlŭt, uĕlŭtī, uelut sīŭt, utī, ut sīutpŏtĕ | as, as if, as though, how, etc. |
